Dear Sir or Madam:

As part of my marketing strategy for my new family practice, I envisioned creating a great looking, professionally designed website. I also needed the website to be easy for me to update and maintain. Medfusion offers a great solution for website design that allows me to keep my website current without knowing any complicated programming languages. The end result is great! Patients love my practice website and I hear a lot of positive feedback.

The Site Generator is a very user-friendly content management tool that allows anyone, regardless of their level of technical knowledge, to maintain the website. When I need to make updates, I simply log in, make my changes and they appear on the website instantaneously. Since it is a web-based application, I can log in anytime, anywhere to make the updates.

We have been pleased with the website so far and are happy to recommend Medfusion's services to anyone looking for a great looking website that is affordable, easy to create and simple to maintain.

Sincerely,

Evelyn Kelly Anderson, MD
