To Whom It May Concern:

Our multi-location primary care group launched a Medfusion website several months ago and we have been very pleased so far. Because the Site Generator™ was easy to use and because we worked diligently to add the content, we were able to quickly turn this project around and launch our website only about a month after we began implementation.

The website is a great resource for our patients- they can find doctors, locations, billing information, and credible patient education information, among other things. In addition to the many resources our website offers, one of our practices recently began using online Appointment Requests, Pre-Registration, and Prescription Renewals. Because we believe these features will benefit this practice and improve the level of service to patients, we look forward to offering these features at our other locations in the near future.

Medfusion allowed us to create a website that is easy to maintain, rich in information, and through the interactive features, will help us to provide a higher level of service to our patients. We have enjoyed working with Medfusion and look forward to partnering with them in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Shanon Carter
